COUNTY CAMPAIGN NOW UNDER WAY

FOUR MORE EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS BEGIN.

GREAT SERVICES SUNDAY

147 New Additions Already Made to Various Churches—Cottage Prayer Meetings Begin.

Four more Evangelistic teams began meetings in the County wide Evangelistic Campaign yesterday. Sword and Wilson at Skidmore, Hamilton and Berg at Burlington Junction, Earley and Van Evera at Hopkins, Kellems and Humbert at Maryville.

It is claimed by the leaders of the campaign in this County that never before has there been used such an array of Evangelistic talent as is used in the carrying forward of this program. Reports have come in this morning to headquarters from all over the county that great services were held in all the meetings yesterday.

The Evangelists at Burlington Junction and Maryville will not extend the invitations for a few days during their sermons, the first few days during their sermons will be devoted the members of the church, especially, and to getting the work thoroughly organized, for the invitations later.

The Ravenwood meeting, under the direction of Evangelists Nay and Lunsford had six more additions yesterday, making a total of forty-six in the eight days of invitation. The meeting wil close Friday night of this week. Great crowds are attending every night and the workers are expecting a large number of aditions before the close.

The Pickering meeting, led by Evangelists Small and Kay was attended by great crowds yesterday, over flowing the house at both services. The meeting is stirring the entire community and no doubt scores of people will be added to the church in the next few days.

A tabulating of reports this morning by the County President show one hundred and forty-seven thus far added to the churches of Nodaway County in this County Campaign.

Reverend D. B. Warren will continue a few days this week at the Palestine Church, south west of Maryville, as the interest here did not permit his closing last night. Reverend S. D. Harlan will continue through this week at the Bethany Church, six miles west of Barnard. Reverend G. M. Maxwell, the pastor at Guilford began a short meeting there last Thursday and will continue this week.

There was a large attendance at all services yesterday in the Christian Church revival here. Dr. D. C. Kellems of Eugene, Ore., preached at all services. He is a good speaker and knows the Bible throughly and has a unique and interesting way of preaching it.

In his opening statements yesterday he said, "I have no apology nor am I responsible for any thing that is written in the book. I am responsible, however, for the proclamation of the messages contained therein. I know there some things in the Bible that you will not like but don't come to me with your complaints. Go to headquarters. One trip upon your knees to Jesus Christ will take the infidelity and sceptism out of you forever. Remember it is the Truth that that makes you free and I shall endeavor to preach the Truth through

GRAND JURY IN SESSION TODAY

TO INVESTIGATE GAMBLING AND DISTILLING OF LIQUOR

TO THE COUNTY FARM

Several Complaints Made About Gambling At Picnics Held This Summer

Gambling, the distilling of intoxicating liquor and offenses as result of liquor, as well as the sales, transportation, as well as other minor offenses, are to be the subjects of the investigation of the grand jury which met for its first session this morning.

The members of the grand jury are: Charles Talbott, Graham; John Hubbell, Barnard; Willis Oxley, Hopkins; Leo King, Clyde; John Boyer, Burlington Junction; Henry Neff, Elmo; W. B. Torrance, Guilford; Henry Wright, Maryville; John O'Day, Parnell; Howard Bancroft, Clearmont; M. S. Casteel, Maryville; and Frank Barrett, Skidmore.

In his charge to the grand jury, Judge Dawson said several complaints have been made about open gambling on picnic grounds at several of the picnics held in the county this summer. He said it was reported that even the old army game had been plyaed at some of these places.

Another subject talked of by Judge Dawson was the distilling of intoxicating liquor as well as other offenses outgrowing from liquor such as its sale, transportation, etc.

Charles Talbott was named as foreman of the jury.

The members of the grand jury visited the county poor farm this morning for the purpose of making an inspection.

The jury is meeting in the county court room this afternoon. Nearly all of the witnesses at that session are from Elmo.

The county court adjourned this afternoon until Thursday, so as the grand jury could use their room in the courthouse for their sessions.

FREE BABY CLINICS WILL BE STARTED NEXT FRIDAY

County Red Cross Nurse Will Advise On Nutrition—Volunteer Service Still Active

Mrs. Eva Hackney, county Red Cross nurse, will hold her first free baby clinic at the Red Cross Rooms next Friday afternoon. They will be held regularly every Friday from now on.

Interest in the baby clinics was increasing when they were discontinued during the summer. The clinics are held mainly for the purpose of weighing and measuring the babies so that parents may know whether they are developing properly. Mrs. Hackney will give advice on nutrition, but if serious defects are found the parents are urged to have them corrected by a physician.

On Saturday, October 1, the volunteer service department of the Nodaway County Chapter of the Red Cross sent to the headquarters at Brooklyn, N. Y., for shipment to Poland, a box containing the following garments; twenty-two children's dresses; fifteen children's petticoats; two night dresses; one winter coat; one small boy's suit; one suit of underwear; one pair child's knit stockings; three pairs men's trousers; and six layettes.

The monthly quota for the local organization until further notice is ten 10-year size dresses and two layettes to be made of plain and serviceable material. The chairmen, Mrs. Jesse F. Robertson and Mrs. Charles D. Bellows, solicit the cooperation of the women in Nodaway County in this work.

DISORGANIZATION IS AGAIN VOTED DOWN

SKIDMORE DISTRICTS WILL REMAIN CONSOLIDATED

VOTE THIS TIME, 300-191

"Let's Have Basket Dinner At Next Election," Says An Anti At Meeting Saturday

Opponents of the consolidation of ten school districts in the vicinity of Skidmore failed Saturday in a second attempt to disorganize the district. The vote in the election, held at the Union Valley schoolhouse, one and a half miles southeast of Skidmore, was 191 for disorganization and 300 against.

W. J. Hitchcock acted as chairman of the meeting, and William Taylor, george Collins, Frank Tarpley and Ray Strickler were judges. O. D. Hartman and M. T. Loucks were clerks.

The vote for consolidation at the first election was 336 to 196. The vote at the first election to disorganize was 206 for disorganization and 347 for keeping the districts consolidated.

The ten districts now consolidated are Skidmore, Eureka, Mount Vernon Burr Oak, Albright, Star, Union Valley, Liberty, Good Will and Scrub Oak.

The second defeat of yesterday is not expected to end the fight for disorganization, as those opposed to the consolidation have signified their intention of calling election until they are allowed to withdraw.

Feeling, while firm on both sides remains friendly. One Anti was heard to say at the election Saturday, "At the next election, let's have a basket dinner and all get together on this question."

NODAWAY COUNTY BREEDERS ENTER BIG SHORTHORN SHOW

To Compete For $5,000 Prize Money And $1,000 Silver Cup At Sni-A-Bar Farms

Bellows Bros., of Maryville, A. O Stanley of Sheridan, T. F. Payne & Sons of Parnell, and F. C. Barber of Skidmore will have Shorthorn cattle on exhibition at the third annual field show of the American Shorthorn Breeders' association at Sni-a-Bar Farms, Grain Valley, Mo., October 12 and 13. Twenty-four breeders of Shorthorns, representing some of the outstanding herds which have been showing on the eastern and midwestern fair circuits, have entered cattle for the show.

The entries for the field show closed today. The show will start at 3:30 o'clock the afternoon of Wednesday, October 12, immediately following the annual demonstration of the W. R. Nelson plan of improving native beef cattle by high class pure bred bulls. Judging in the field also will continue the following day, with a consignment sale of purebred cattle that afternoon. Jess Andrews, West Point, Ind., prominent breeder of Shorthorns, will judge the cattle.

More than two hundred head will compete at the field show for $5,000 in prize money and a $1,000 silver cup offered by Sni-a-Bar Farms for the grand champion bull. Every class will be filled. The bull classes, especialy, will be strong because of the fact that, outside of one or two shows, more money will be offered on bulls at Sni-a-Bar Farms than any other place in the country this season. The bull classes have been stressed by the Shorthorn Association because of the significance of the sire in the breeding demonstration held just preceding the field show.

BLEACHERS AT COLLEGE ON FIRE SATURDAY NIGHT

Damage Is Estimated at $15—Fire Today at Martin Apartment House.

The bleachers at the State Teachers College athletic field caught fire about 11 o'clock Saturday night and the fire department was called to the scene. The damage was estimated at between $10 and $15. Three or four new seats will have to be built.

Several are of the opinion that it was set on fire. Others think it started from a small grass fire which was not completely extinguished Saturday afternoon.

The fire department was called to the apartment house of Dr. F. M. Martin, just south of his office, today at 2 o'clock. The roof had caught fire from the flue. The damage was estimated at between $20 and $25.

MARYVILLE WINS FROM KING CITY

PLAY CHILLICOTHE NEXT

Masters, Ogden and O'Banion, Star In First Game—King City Has Good Backfield

Maryville High School's football team defeated King City Saturday afternoon, 14-0. The teams were much more evenly matched than they had been expected to be, and the local eleven soon abandoned the idea of piling up a big score.

The stars of the game for Maryville were Masters, Ogden and O'Banion. Masters, playing left tackle, made many large gains in tackle-around plays, and was responsible many times for nailing a King City man back of the line. Ogden, playing his first year of football, furnished the surprise of the game by his fearless and sure tackling. He is already being talked of fer a position on the mythical all-state eleven. O'Banion, fullback, was the heaviest ground gainer for Maryville with his hard smashes through the line.

For King City, Stewart, left half back, furnished the spectators many thrills with his open field running. Several times he broke away for long gains, three times bringing the ball within five yards of Maryville's goal. He was furnished good interference by his teammates in the backfield, Captain Berry, at left end, was another King City star. He repeatedly put Maryville's right tackle out of the play, leaving a gaping hold, through which Stewart and the other backs made many gains.

The touch downs were made by Masters in the first quarter and O'Banion in the third quarter.

In the first quarter Maryville kicked off, and after a series of line bucks by both teams Masters got away in a tackle-around and took the ball over King City's goal. Masters kicked goal, making the score 7 to 0. In the second quarter, King City had the ball in Maryville's territory most of the time, forcing O'Banion to punt out of danger whenever Maryville got the ball. The half ended with the ball in King City's hands.

In the third quarter, after a series of line bucks and short end runs, Maryville brought the ball to the five yard line, and O'Banion, in a nose dive, carried the pigskin across the goal. Masters kicked goal.

In the last quarter King City intercepted a Maryville forward pass on the sixty yard line and brought the ball within three yards of Maryville's goal, but Berry recovered a King City fumble and gained about forty yards.

SPELLING DRILL TO START AT M.H.S

STUDENTS MUST LEARN TO SPELL SAYS SUPERINTENDENT.

WILL BEGIN DEBATING

To Enter Competition in New Field—High School Library Gets Valuable Addition.

Maryville high school students must know how to spell before they are sent out into the world as graduates.

This edict went forth today from the office of Supt. L. E. Ziegler. A list of words misspelled by the students in their written work will be kept by all teachers and turned over to the English department, where the students will be given drill three times a week on the words that proved stumbling blocks the week before.

Three years of English are required for graduation, and by combining the drill in spelling with this department, practically every student will be reached.

Having demonstrated their prowess on the athletic field, High School students will embark this fall on new seas of inter-high school competition. Plans are now under way to arouse interest in debating, under the directoin of D. W. Burford, instructor of civics and history, and a former member of the debating team of Central College.

Maryville debaters will compete with representatives of other schools in this district, and if victorious over them will then go to Columbia to meet the champions of other districts. A handsome cup is given each year to the winner in the state debating league, and the best individual debater is given a scholarship in the University of Missouri. Supt. E. B. Street of the Independence High School, is in charge of the debating among the schools of Northwest Missouri.

The High School library is being moved today into the old bookkeeping room. It will be reclassified on either the unit or the duodecimal system, probably the former. The library now has about 2,000 volumes and has few equals in other high schools of the state. A valuable addition to the library was made, when Dr. Jesse Miller succeeded in getting a large shipment of books from the libraries collected by the government for the use of soldiers during the war. The selection of volumes was varied and complete, including many valuable works on history, biography and the like, and some especially interesting books on late inventions.

The new gymnasium has been completed, and new baskets are being put up today. The Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a workout there tonight to pick a basketball team.

CHARLES VULGAMOTT VS. WABASH UP IN COURT

Suing for $10,000 Damages For Injuries Sustained in Accident—Davis Case Tomorrow

The case of Charles Vulgamott vs the Wabash was on trial today in Circuit Court. Vulgamott won a verdict for $4,000 against the Wabash in court last year but the case was sent back here for new trial by the Kansas City Court of Appeals when it was appealed there by the defendant.

Vulgamott is suing for $10,000 damages as the result of injuries sustained in a car load of household furniture, which he was shipping, claiming the railroad company was careless and negligent.

The jury hearing the case is composed of O. O. Gregory, Andy Bare, William Taylor, C. M. Warner, Joseph Bird, Henry A. Thompson, J. N. Alexander, W. B. Graham, Ben H. Twaddell, Earl Stephenson, George W. Alexander and Harry Lyle.

David Dabbs, an attorney of Kansas City, was in court this morning arguing the motion to stay proceedings in the case of Willie May Edmonston against Eva Davis. The defendent introduced a certified copy of the judgement of the Kansas City Court of Apeals, taxing the cost of printing abstract of record at $126 against the plaintiff. The motion was overruled. A motion to tax costs was withdrawn. This case is scheduled for trial tomorrow, it having been sent back here for a new trial by the Kansas City Court of Appeals.

STRIKE OF LONGSHOREMEN TIES UP HOBOKEN DOCKS

New York, Oct. 3—While union officials were decrying the unauthorized strike, 2,000 additional longshoremen went out at Hoboken today, completely tying up that important section of New York harbor. Contrary to expectations, none of the Chelsea dock workers returned to work today.

At noon it was estimated fifteen thousand longshoremen were out. The strike was caused by an attempt to reduce wages.

SAY KU KLUX KLAN VIOLATED NO LAW

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR BLOODSHED, CITIZENS DECLARE.

10 WOUNDED; 3 MAY DIE

Sheriff Attempts to Stop Parade of Klansmen at Lorena, Texas —Fight Follows,

Waco, Texas, Oct. 3.—"We grieve for the blood that was spilled, but, in order that the world may know the facts, we desire to announce we do not believe the members of the Ku Klux Klan who staged the parade Saturday night violated any law or that they had any intention of violating any law."

Thus in part reads the statement issued by the committee of Lorena citizens, where on Saturday night, during the parade of the Ku Klux Klan, ten persons were wounded, three of whom may die. The statement was signed by more than two hundred.

A grand jury will be called here to investigate the fight at the earliest possible date.

The fight took place when Sheriff Buchanan, with Deputies Burton and Wood, attempted to disperse the marching klansmen, who were masked and robed, after according to the sheriff, they had refused to divulge their identity. He had agreed to permit them to parade, he said, if they would allow him to identify those participating.

After a conference with two masked leaders at a house on the outskirts of town, where the klansmen were beginning to assemble, which delayed the parade for more than an hour, while he tried to presuade the klansmen to desist from violating what he interpreted as the law against unknown masked men marching in a public demonstration, the sheriff returned to the crowded business section of Lorean, vowing that there would be no parade, according to eye-witnesses.

Immediately afterward, the throng of more than three thousand persons who had gathered from nearby towns to witness the parade, saw the column of white clad figures swing into step and begin their march toward Lorena down the road leading in from Waco.

As the marchers advanced, cheers from the crowds which lined the road greeted them, mingled with hoots and jeers from those admonishing the sheriff not to interfere.

When the leader of the column bearing an American flag reached a street intersection just a block from the main business street of the town, Sheriff Buchanan, followed by his two deputies and a crowd of curious spectators, halted the standard bearer and grappled with him in an attempt to snatch the mask from his face.

Other marchers then came to the assistance of their leader and in the melee which followed the sheriff was knocked down by a blow from the pole upon which was fastened the insignia of the invisible empire, the fiery cross emblazoned by electric lights.

A single pistol shot was heard and, as the sheriff fought his way to his feet, fifteen or twenty more shots were fired in rapid succession.

Unsheathing his knife after he was heard to exclaim "somebody got my gun while I was down," Sheriff Buch-

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

AN APPRECIATION OF THE HOME TOWN PAPER.

Special Recognition of the Local Paper, November 7-12, Urged by Dean Mumford.

Throughout the United States the week of November 7 to 12 will be observed as "Subscribe for your Home Town Paper Week." It is appropriate that every public official and every individual should during this week recall with appreciation that great public services rendered by the home town paper.

The local paper has had a profound influence upon the whole social and economic development of the nation. It has invariably been first in every public enterprise. Perhaps no printed publication is read so completely or with such intense interest as the local weekly paper. For this reason it is one of the most valuable channels for the dissemination of important public information.

The Missouri country paper has rendered a highly valuable and exceptionally efficient service to the agriculture of the state through its thoroughly appreciated cooperation with the College of Agriculture. It has printed the results of valuable agricultural scientific discoveries made by the College, and has thus brought quickly to the attention of the farmers' new methods and improved systems. The farmer should appreciate this service as it forms a contact between himself and a public institution organized and administered primarily for his benefit.

Ellis then got away with the ball for a thirty yard gain, but Maryville was penalized for off side and lost all the gain. When the final whistle blew, Maryville had the ball and was headed for a touchdown.

The High School band headed a parade from the high school through the business part of town to the College field. The band was followed by about a hundred high school rooters singing the high school songs. A large crowd of town people was out to the game, together with a truck load of King City rooters.

The high school plays Chillicothe at Chillicothe next Friday. Chillicothe is one of the strongest teams of the conference.

Capt. Harry Carstens was injured in Saturday's game but he will be in condition to make the trip Friday. It is not known as yet who will make the trip and this is making strong competition because everyone has a chance to make the team and no one is certain of a berth on it. A week from Friday there is an open date but the next week Maryville meets its old rival, Trenton.

The line-ups in Saturday's game were:

Substitutions for Maryville: England for Davenport, Ellis for Willoughby, Landfather for Carstens, Ledgerwood for Eaton, Cook for Kissinger.

Scrubs Eat More; Worth Less.

The surest and quickest method to increase the profits from the ordinary sheep flock is to use a purebred ram of good mutton type. Lambs from such a sire at the Missouri Experiment Station gained 26 per cent faster on the same feed than lambs from similar ewes and a scrub sire. For every 100 pounds gained the scrub-sired lambs consumed 88 pounds of grain while those from a purebred sire ate but 52. The grade lambs were heavier at three months than the scrubs were at four. The grade lambs brought 60 per cent more a pound than the scrub lambs. This difference was due to superior quality and conformation and to the uniformity of the lot. The lambs sired by the purebred ram were thicker fleshed, smoother, broader in back and lighter in pelt than lambs from exactly similar western ewes and a scrub ram.

No investment within reach of the flock owner will yield greater returns than the purchase of a purebred ram of good mutton type.

One of our friends was talking to us about the name of your column, and remarked that the old saying "the good die young" was never said of a joke.

One of our bachelor friends remarked to us the other day that every married man seemed to have two distinct ambitions. One was to own a home and the other was to own an automobile to get away from said home.

We read a census bureau report which said the population of the United States was 16 per cent denser than it was 10 years ago. From some of the things people fall for we had thought it was much worse than that.

The papers carried a story a few days ago about a woman in Portland, Me., who celebrated her 105th birthday and who said she expected to live to be 150. Some one is always taking the joy out of life remarked an undertaker as he read the item.

Our neighbor is rather absent minded and the other noon as he was glancing over his paper while waiting for dinner, his wife came in and said the upholsterer was there for the davenport and asked him what they should have it stuffed with. "Oh any thing," he replied, while he kept on reading, "sage, onions, oysters or whatever you wish to use."

The father who used to boast his driving horse was good for 25 miles a day lives anew in the son who brags his automobile is good for 250 miles a day.

Louise, the stenographer, told us the other day she read that people should always marry their opposites and says she supposes that is the reason a poor youth always wants to marry an heiress and a poor girl a millionaire.

One of the amateur weather prophets told us the other day that he expected a hard winter as the squirrels over the county were laying in heavy stores. Some more nutty stuff.

We are willing to bet that those people who have been hot weather kickers soon will be the hardest cold weather growlers.

Maryville milliners tell us that the girls seem to wear their summer hats longer than formerly.

Produce Review by Swift & Co.

Poultry receipts have been heavy and lower prices have prevailed on both live and dressed stock in the leading markets. A large proportion of the movement consists of spring chickens of the lighter weights, and it is evident there is a large crop of poultry to be marketed.

Egg receipts are much lighter and higher prices are being paid for good fresh stock.

The market on butter is unchanged from the previous week; receipts of cream are a little heavier than usual at this season, but the quality is not up to standard.

Improvement in the quality of cream delivered to the creameries would be beneficial.

"Some Bean"

W. C. Nelson of the Parnell Bank has on exhibition at the bank, something which is quite a curiosity. It is what is known as a wonder bean. Mr. Nelson got the seed from some seed house and planted it in his garden. At first it looked very much like it might never be anything more than a big vine but finally two or three beans appeared and the one Mr. Nelson brought to the bank is about 30 inches long, 4 inches in diameter and weighs 8½ pounds. About all we can say about is that it is sure "Some Bean."—Parnell Sentinel

MATTER OF DEATH IN DOUBT

Authorities Puzzled as to Whether Man's Being Pronounced Dead Makes Him Legally So.

Al F. Williams, United States district attorney for Kansas, received a letter a short time ago asking his opinion as to the status of a person upon whom a death sentence has been executed, who has been legally pronounced dead, but afterwards regains consciousness and recovers.

The case cited was that of five bandits who were convicted of highway robbery in the province of Cagayan, Philippine Islands, and sentenced to die by the old Spanish method of strangulation. After the execution the five bandits were placed on the floor of a church to await funeral rites in the morning. In the night three regained consciousness. Two of the three died "again" in a couple of days, but one recovered, although left in a deformed condition.

The questions asked are whether the bandit who lived could be strangled again, or, if he could not, would the fact that he was legally pronounced dead prevent his being tried in the courts if he committed another crime. Mr. Williams wrote an opinion to the inquiring person, declaring that he believed that an order could be obtained from the court setting aside the first execution as having never been performed and another one ordered.

His opinion was that if the bandit were not killed, finally, he could be held amenable for other crimes, although legally he was not in existence.

"Of course," Mr. Williams said, "you will probably find as many lawyers and judges disagreeing with my opinion as concurring."

The Missing Fortune

By MURIEL BLAIR.

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.

Because John Davis was hungry and had to work, and because a big wind storm had blown down some barns and fences and nearly half the trees in Glenville, thereby offering that individual an opportunity to labor, sunshine came suddenly into the life of pretty, Patient Ethel Moore.

She needed it, poor girl, and more than deserved it, if ever a loving, helpful daughter and a true and earnest sweetheart did. Ever since her mother had died Ethel had led a hard, slave-like existence. They had not always lived in Glenville. It was the lure of chance and a fortune that had induced William Moore, her father, to abandon a fairly prosperous store business in a city 50 miles distant, to fill out, as he anticipated, the glowing dream of his life. He had always longed for a farm, and when he was called urgently to the bedside of his dying brother, Robert, he felt certain that at last the coveted acme of his ambition was in sight.

Robert Moore, reputed a rich man, died before his brother reached him. In his will he left William everything. When "everything" was materialized into coherency, to the surprise of his neighbors and the bitter disappointment of the legatee, the estate comprised only the old home, with its weather-beaten porch and boarded-up cupola, dreary and gloomy in the extreme.

"The place will do to live in," moodily decided William Moore, "but what has ever become of the stocks and bonds and money everybody knew my brother had six months before he died?"

William Moore's wife died, he sold out his business and then lost his cash in an unwise speculation.

Then the shoe began to pinch. He had a small house in the city, which brought in a certain income, but not enough to cover living expenses. Ethel learned to do dressmaking and her little earnings helped to keep the wolf from the door.

It was when Archie Winston came into her life that the days seemed worth while and the nights were filled with sweet dreams. The old man had grown sour and selfish, and would not hear of a change in their domestic relations.

"I may get something yet out of my unfortunate investment," he was wont to say.

It was several days after the big storm and the fallen and hanging limbs of the giant trees surrounding the Moore homestead had not been cleared away.

When John Davis came along one morning Ethel listened to his application for work with interest and sympathy.

"I've been sick for a long time, Miss Moore," he declared, "and not able to take a steady job for some time ahead. I'll trim out that hanging stuff up around the house for fifty cents."

"Very well, Mr. Davis," she agreed after a moment or two of wavering thought. "It isn't much to pay though."

"It's a lot to me," sighed Davis thinking of the hungry mouths at home. "You'll get a blessing for this," he added.

Ethel went into the house with thoughts of the struggling brood of children of John Davis' in her mind. She remembered an old trunk in the attic filled with odds and ends, and wondered if she would be likely to find anything of service to the Davis household.

Several old garments she discovered, might be utilized. She was kneeling by the trunk, engrossed in her task, when a most unearthly bubbub drove her to her feet with a shock.

"Oh, dear! what can have happened?" gasped Ethel breathlessly.

Then, as she dashed outside, she saw her father standing in the garden waving his arms frantically.

"You've ruined the looks of the house!" he was storming at John Davis.

The latter sat on the ground staring vacantly at a mass of wreckage near by. It was the shattered remnants of the old cupola.

Mr. Moore advanced to where the ruins of the cupola lay. Ethel heard him utter a strange cry. She ran towards him as he stooped over and picked something up.

It was a tin box. Her father lifted its catch, threw back the cover and nearly fell over as a great conviction illumined his mind.

"Quick, daughter!" he panted. "Papers—and money! If it should be my brother's missing fortune at last—!"

It was, at last, and in full. The hiding place of the missing fortune had come to light through Ethel Moore's kind deed. It meant so much to William Moore that he seemed to grow younger in an hour. He sent John Davis home feeling rich, and he told Archie and Ethel that evening that they might arrange to have the old homestead renovated for a wedding.

No Choice.

"Now suppose," said a Canadian temperance lecturer, "I had a pail of water and a pail of beer and brought on a horse, which of the two would be taken?"

"He'd take the water," came a voice from the gallery.

"Exactly," said the lecturer. "But why should he take the water?"

"Because you'd beat him to the beer."—Boston Transcript.

$10,000,000 AID FOR VETERANS

Red Cross Provides Friendly Service of Many Kinds to Army of Disabled.

BULK OF WORK BY CHAPTERS

2,397 of These Are Helping Ex-Service Men Obtain Benefits U. S. Provides.

One field of Red Cross service alone, that of assisting disabled veterans of the World War, entails expenditures $4,000,000 greater than the aggregate receipts of the Annual Roll Call of 1920, the American Red Cross announces in a statement urging a widespread increase in membership at the Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 24. At the present time National Headquarters and the nation-wide chain of Chapters of the Red Cross is spending approximately $10,000,000 annually for the relief of disabled ex-service men and their families, while the aggregate receipts from last year's Roll Call were approximately $6,000,000.

It is in the 2,289 of the 3,000 Red Cross Chapters which still are helping solve the veteran's problem of adjusting himself to a normal civilian status that the greater part of the cost of this service is borne. Of the total sum spent for veterans' relief last year, National Headquarters expended a total of more than $2,600,000, while the remaining disbursement of approximately $7,000,000 represents the contribution of Chapters in this country-wide effort to assist the Government in providing the aid sorely needed by these men and their families.

An Ever Expanding Problem

That the problem of the disabled service man is ever-expanding and probably will not reach the peak before 1925, is the assertion of well-informed Government officials and that 2,397 Red Cross Chapters regard it as their most important work is evidence that the expansion is in nowise confined to a particular section but is on the contrary, nation-wide. At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1921 there were 26,300 disabled service men in the 1,692 United States Public Health Service, Contract and Government Hospitals and Soldiers Homes, and that number is increasing at a rate of 1,000 a month.

Thousands of these men receiving medical treatment, compensation and vocational training from the Government today, started their efforts to obtain them through the Red Cross Chapter. The Chapter, acting as the disabled man's agent in claims against the Government, informs the man as to the procedure necessary to gain for him that which is provided him by Federal statute. His applications for compensation, medical treatment and training are properly filed with the aid of the Red Cross Chapter.

Many Forms of Assistance

If there is delay before the man's claim is acted upon, the Red Cross Chapter lends the man money to meet the imperative needs of himself and his dependents.

Most vital to the man's gaining full benefit from the Government's care is keeping his mind free from worry about his home. Keeping the veteran's family from hardship of every kind and informing him of its welfare is another province of the Chapter. Free from fear on this score, the man's recovery and advancement usually is rapid.

Every month during the last year the American Red Cross has given service of one kind or another to an average of 129,215 former service men and their families. An indication of the extent of the faith reposed in the Red Cross Chapter is to be found in the fact that there were 356,544 requests for friendly aid in the solution of personal problems.

448 Workers in Hospitals

While the man prior to entering Government care deals largely with the Chapter, afterward he comes into contact with the service provided by National Headquarters. There are 448 Red Cross workers in the United States Public Health Service and contract hospitals and other institutions in which these men are being cared for, whose duty is to provide for his recreation, help him with his compensation claims, keep him in touch with his family; in short, meeting his every need outside of that provided by the Government. While these are a few of the responsibilities of the National Organization, they are by no means all. Among other Red Cross accomplishments for the year are:

It handled 70,732 allotment and allowance claims.

It delivered through its Chapter organization 63,655 allotment checks to veterans who had moved from the addresses furnished to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

It provided a special fund of $10,000 for medical assistance to men under vocational training.

It made 32,495 loans totaling $450,000 to men taking vocational training, of which 85 per cent has been repaid.

anan quickly cleared a space around him, but soon after he was seen to totter and fall.

Robed figures then picked up the national emblem and the flag of their organization, and with this as their signal, the marchers quickly formed into line and quietly marched off, disappearing as phantoms in the darkness.

Several bystanders who seized and held Deputy Burton early in the fight, aided Sheriff Buchanan to his feet and helped him into a drug store where first aid was administered.

A spectator who saw Louis Crow, one of the bystanders who was wounded, totter and fall and who also assisted him to a store for medical aid, said he was unable to identify the latter's assailant.

All of the wounded, including Crow, except Sheriff Buchanan, were reported to have been innocent bystanders and today could give no information as to their assailants. They are all well known here and at Lorena.

George Hepburn, living near Hopkins, spent the week end with his daughter, Miss Dorothy Hepburn, a student at Park College in Parkville.

Miss Maggie Haffie of Kansas City who has been visiting Miss Elizabeth Doran since Saturday noon, is now at the home of her uncle, John Gallagher near Maryville.

TWO CARS CRASH BUT OCCUPANTS ARE UNHURT

Automobile Driven by George Coler Hits That of Fred Diss and Goes Over Embankment.

Two cars were badly damaged, one of them going over a ten-foot embankment, in an accident which occurred about 8 o'clock last night on the west road from Maryville. All the occupants of the cars escaped unjured.

Fred Diss, driving a heavy Haynes touring car, was bringing Harvey L. Haines home from Sabetha, Kan., where he had spent the day with his parents. Seeing another car approaching, they stopped near a bridge in front of the Emmett Scott place. The other car, a Studebaker driven by George Coler, crossed the bridge safely, but swerved to the left and struck the left front wheel of the Diss car. The force of the collision tore off the heavy bumper, bent an axle and the fender and damaged the steering gear. The left front wheel of the Coler car was torn off, but the car continued on past the Haynes, turned abruptly to the left and plunged over the embankment. Mrs. Coler was the only other occupant of the car. Neither received a scratch.

The damage to each car was between $75 and $100.

W. T. Spanton, head of the state vocational agriculture department, is making an inspection today of the Maryville High School and especially of the new department of vocational agriculture. He is making the double inspection to avoid the necessity of sending another man here later on.

The inspector was well pleased with the new building. While the official inspection of the vocational home economics department will not be made until later, he pronounced it the best of any school in the state, outside of the cities.

President Harding Now Heads Red Cross

Succeeding former President Wilson, President Harding was recently elected president of the American Red Cross. He is here seen accepting the office. From left to right: Maj. Gen. Merritte W. Stitt, Surgeon General, U. S. N.

The Red Cross is spending Ten Million Dollars a Year to help the ex-service man and his family —
Annual Roll Call · Nov. 11-24, 1921

To bring before the country in visual form the vast problem it is helping to solve, the American Red Cross has prepared for its Annual Roll Call, Nov. 11 to 24, a poster showing how rather than diminishing the total of World War veterans entitled to Federal aid continues to grow. Red Cross Service to these men is costing $10,000,000 a year.

Red Cross Gives $310,000 to Aid 'Clean-Up' Drive

An appropriation of $310,000 for Red Cross work in connection with the "clean-up" campaign instituted by the Government to bring the claims of all disabled service men who are entitled to Federal aid before the proper government bureau for action, has been made by the American Red Cross. The Executive Committee of the American Red Cross in making the appropriation authorized the appropriation of $35,000 of this sum to the American Legion to defray the expense of the Legion representatives assigned to the various districts of the Veterans Bureau.

The remainder of the appropriation was authorized for apportionment among the several Divisions of the Red Cross for carrying on that part of the "clean-up" work that falls directly upon the Red Cross organization.

Young America Sends Vast Relief To Needy Abroad

Various relief projects of the Junior American Red Cross in European countries resulted in helping 237,000 destitute children during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of the American Red Cross for that period. The growth of the activities of the Juniors abroad is manifested by a comparison which shows this figure is 200,000 larger than that of the previous fiscal year.

The National Children's Fund raised by school children, members of the Junior American Red Cross, was drawn upon for $420,567 for these projects. Receipts for the National Children's Fund during the last fiscal year totalled $155,317.

America Succors Russians

Food, clothing and medical relief costing $700,000 has been provided by the American Red Cross for the thousands of Russian refugees stranded last year in Constantinople and vicinity.

Red Cross Trains 147 Blind Vets In Useful Work

Training designed to fit them for the battle of life was taken by 147 blinded ex-service men at the Red Cross Institute for the Blind, near Baltimore, Md., during the fiscal year 1920-1921, according to the report of the Institute for that period.

Of this number, 19 have gone on to other institutions, in almost every case to institutions where those having sight are receiving advanced education. The blind ex-service men who have entered such institutions are provided with special text-books in Braille, reading which they were taught at the Red Cross Institute.

Twelve men have passed from the Institute to successfully carry on some occupation or business for which they were fitted by special training. A few have withdrawn from the Institute because of poor physical condition, 14 are receiving further "training on the job" and 87 are still in training.

Red Cross Plans $6,000,000 Effort To Save Children

Medical care and clothing for thousands of children in Central and Eastern Europe are outlined as the activities of the American Red Cross in Europe for the current year, says a statement on the eve of the Annual Roll Call of the organization. These activities, supplemental to the feeding operations of the European Relief Council of which Herbert Hoover is chairman, are designed to provide the most adequate and balanced relief within the resources of private philanthropy.

Through the establishment of child welfare stations in the centers of population of those countries where adequate medical care is not now obtainable, the American Red Cross plans to provide the medical assistance needed to restore these children to a normally healthy life. The sum of $6,000,000 has been made available for this work.

DISARMAMENT NOT REPUBLICAN IDEA

CHAMP CLARK PREACHED DOCTRINE FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

FURTHERED BY WILSON

Article 8 of Versailles Treaty Calls for Smaller Armies and Navies for All Nations.

By Wallace Bassford
(Special News Correspondent)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 3.—Democrats in Congress are hoping for the success of the coming conference for reduction of armaments. They very properly take pride in it as a Democratic achievement. Those who think of it as a Republican move for popular approval have forgotten, in the hurly-burly of events, the history of the movement. A brief outline of that history will show that President Harding did not discover the idea, any more than Doctor Sawyer has discovered a cure for golf.

As recently as last spring the President was much upset by Senator Borah's resolution directing him to call such a conference. And the latter did not himself discover the idea any more than Laddie Boy discovered the Do Star.

The whole idea of such a conference to reduce the terrible burden of armaments is Democratic. Champ Clark preached it off and on for twenty-five years, but it took another Missouri Democrat to put the concrete idea into the Naval Bill in 1916, five years ago. It was first offered by Representative Walter L. Hensley as a resolution and was then incorporated in the Naval Appropriation Act of 1916, and can be found in Vol. 39, part 1, page 618 of the U. S. Statutes at large. I quote here the most important part of the law:

"It is hereby declared to be the policy of the United States to adjust and settle its international disputes through meditation or arbitration, to the end that war may be honorably avoided. It looks with apprehension to the end that war may be honorably avoided. It looks with apprehension and disfavor upon a general increase of armaments throughout the world, but it realizes that no single nation can disarm, and that without a common agreement upon the subject every considerable power must maintain a relative standing in military strength.

"In view of the premises, the president is authorized and requested to invite, at an appropriate time, not later than the close of the war in Europe, all the great governments of the world to send representatives to a conference, which shall be charged with the duty of formulating a plan for a court of arbitration or other tribunal, to which disputed questions between nations shall be referred for adjustification and peaceful settlement, and to consider the question of disarmament and submit their recommendation to their respective governments for approval. The President is hereby authorized to appoint nine citizens of the United States, who, in his judgement, shall be qualified for the mission by eminence in the law and by devotion to the cause of peace, to be representatives of the United States in such a conference.

The law went on to appropriate $200,000; curiously enough, President Harding asked for the same amount for expenses of the conference.

When the Hensley provision was up in the House, Speaker Clark left the chair to take up the cudgels for it, aiding Hensley to put it through. The chief opposition came from the late Augustus P. Gardner, son-in-law of Senator Lodge, who is now on the Conference Committee. The debate can be found in the Record of the 64th Congress, vol. 53, part 9, beginning at page 9843. This piece of legislation was also passed by the Democratic Senate and signed by the Democratic President and is now the law as much as in 1916.

When the war was over and the Treaty of Versailles was being made, President Wilson had the idea inserted in the treaty as Article 8. This did not make it any more acceptable to the Republicans; in fact the whole idea of such a conference seemed utterly repugnant to the Republicans until President Harding took it up and fostered it as his own idea.

McKinley, Roosevelt, and Taft all tried their hands at "breaking the solid South." Very popular outdoor sport. Now Harding is trying it. His friend Colonel (paper title) Anderson is running for Governor of Va., aided by ample funds from the Republican National Treasury. In a speech the other day he said that when distributing Red Cross food to the people in the Balkans the women and children would kiss the flag on his automobile, but that he felt that he was perpetrating a fraud on them when he reflected that one of the stars on that flag stood for the State of Virginia—and more to the same effect. He was answered by Judge Handley whose son was desperately wounded in a Virginia regiment at the battle front. The solid South may be broken, but it will not be in Virginia in this year of Grace, 1921, by Colonel Anderson.

KANSAS COAL MINES ARE IDLE; 12,000 MINERS OUT

No Coal Will Be Mined Until Industrial Court Law Is Repealed Declare Union Leaders

Pittsburg, Oct. 3—Not a coal mine in the vast Cherokee fields of Kansas is working today. Twelve thousand miners, who quit work Friday when Alexander Howat and August Dorchy, their leaders, went to jail, remained idle.

No coal will be mined until the Kansas Industrial Court Law is taken from the books, declared a resolution passed by 2,400 miners at Franklin who voted solidly for a strike.

Union leaders declared today the strike will be a fight to the finish against the Industrial Court Law and John Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who has repudiated Howat. Howat is reported to have the support of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

PASTOR REFUSES TO TAKE VACATION SO MEMBERS DO

Members of African M. E. Church "Strike" Rather Than Hear The Rev. E. D. Abbott Preach

Rather than go to church to hear the Rev. E. D. Abbott, the pastor of the African M. E. church, preach nearly all of the members and their families went to the home of one of their colored members, Joe Graves, living near Skidmore, Sunday morning and had a basket dinner at noon.

Nearly all the members of the church served notice on the Rev. Mr. Abbott that he could take a vacation the remaining Sundays of the conference year if he cared to. At least they informed him they would not attend church any more during his pastorate. Conference meets October 13.

The trouble arose over the matter of a suit of clothes. The official board claims they have paid the pastor all they agreed to and that $20 that was raised for a suit of clothes for the pastor should apply on his salary. The pastor claims he has not received his full salary.

COUNTY CAMPAIGN NOW UNDER WAY

out this entire Revival meeting."

Dr. Kellems sermons are throughly Scriptural and as he said of himself yesterday, "I can quote it by the rod."

The address to the Men's Class was upon the subject "Divine Revelation" and was a wonderful exposition of the purposes of the Bible and sources from which it came.

The morning sermon was upon the subject "Every man in his place" and was an appeal to the members of the Church and those who are responsible for this Campaign, to fill their places and fill them to the best of their abilities.

The evening message was "Why I preach the Word". Ten reasons were given why the Evangelist personally and the religious body to which he belongs, preach the Word of God and stand for it.

Professor Dale Humbert of Spokane, Wash., is the singer in the Maryville meeting, and he pleased the audiences in his first appearance yesterday. He is especially good in the leading of the congregation. There will be special music at every service. The organ, two pianos and an orchestra will assist the large chorus in the music each evening.

Tomorrow afternoon the Maryville Church will take a religious census of Polk township. It is expected that about twenty-five automobiles will be used for the Country and fifty or more canvassers to cover the city.

The services begin each evening at 7:30 o'clock promptly. Dr. Kellems subject tonight is "Who Made the Devil."
